Privacy and security Policy

The Tay Ringing Group is committed to protecting your privacy and security. Whenever you provide personal information, we will treat that information in accordance with this policy, current UK Data Protection legislation and Internet best practice.

Data protection

You can use most of the features in this site without disclosing any personal information. Some features of this site, such as our 'Contact Us' form, ask you to provide some personal information (e.g. name, e-mail address, telephone contact). This information will be used only by the Tay Ringing Group - we will never sell your details to anyone else.

If we wish to use your personal information for an additional purpose, we will ask you to agree to this first, before using such information.

Users aged under 16

If you are aged under 16, please ensure you obtain your parent/guardian's consent before sending any personal information to this website, including any information on our 'Contact us' forms. Please note that the Tay Ringing Group will not accept online donations or services from persons aged under 16 years.

Links to third party websites

This Tay Ringing Group website contains hyperlinks to many other websites. This information is supplied in good faith, in case it is of interest, or use, to Tay Ringing Group website users. The Tay Ringing Group is not responsible for the content of any of these external websites. Visitors to the Tay Ringing Group website should be aware of the following:

1. If an external website requests personal information from you (e.g. in connection with an order for goods or services), this information is supplied to, stored and used by the company concerned - it is not covered by the Tay Ringing Group Data Protection Statement.
2. Purchasing goods or services from any of the companies to which the Tay Ringing Group site links to, you are forming a contract with the company(s) concerned and not with the Tay Ringing Group.

It is good practice to read the privacy policy of any website at which you are considering registering any personal information.
